Boyers Write From Korea

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Haley, of Appomattox, received recently another letter from their nephew, Mrs. Kenneth Boyer who together with her husband, is a missionary in Korea. They feel it may be of interest to readers. And God Himself shall be with them. . . And there shall be no death . . . Neither sorrow . . . crying . . . nor pain. . .

At this point my language teacher burst into tears . . . prayer . . . and praise. My study was through for the day as we shared the wonderful promises God has given us in His word.

Many crises have touched the hearts of the Korean people this winter and this young mother is just one of the many that have felt discouraged and fatigued from trying to live from day to day.

First, it was the sorrow of the inter - island boat that capsized trapping 137 people inside. Investigations were made to find the families of those who believed their loved ones were aboard but no one could be sure until the boat was brought in two weeks later and the dead were identified.

Then, from our window we can see the shells of burned buildings where a large market used to be. The memory of the fire is still vivid. It was 12:50 a.m. when I was aroused by the baby and the wind . . . the room seemed full of . . . so what! . . . recent cold, record snow, no electricity, then startled by the fact that the sky was red, we looked and I saw the flames spreading rapidly through a large part of the city and it looked as if it would burn to the ocean! We called the rest of the station . . . Ken and Bob Smith were down to see if they could help and to check on an American Family there. The things that followed were evidences of God's watchcare and answered prayer. The wind stopped abruptly . . . a heavier snowfall softened the crimson glare, the electricity came on . . . the water from the 30 mile upstream supply came in full force and in a couple of hours the fire was under control. Not a person was injured. . . some 2,000 had suffered losses . . . about 300 families (1,100) people were homeless with no means of income. They took refuge in a school for a week until tents were borrowed for them. Church World Service sent some food, blankets and clothing. White Cross supplies helped outfit the small babies. The total money from all sources made it possible for each household to receive about a hundred dollars to start rebuilding their homes. We thank God that no one was hurt and that so many gifts came in for the city to use for these people. The best sorting that one of our senior missionaries here in Mokpo, Mrs. W. A. Linton, became seriously ill and had to be sent home in and near the Chunju hospital for a month now. As we are only five here, this leaves a big gap in the work. We pray that God may soon restore her health that she may continue her service here.

After 34 consecutive days of snowfall, shortages, cold and hardships for so many Koreans in their mud, paper and straw homes, we believe spring is near and pray that their hardships may be lightened.

Kenneth, Timothy (10 mo.) and I plan to spend a month on Cheju Island beginning the 25th of March. Ken will travel to the some twenty churches he visits and I will have clinics in various areas. We will be taking one of our Kwangju doctors and a Korean nurse and will set up living quarters in a now vacant Korean dormitory for most of the time. We hope you will remember us in your prayers during this time that we may be effectively used to witness through the work there this spring, that more may know the love of God, that the hope of eternal life and Join with us in our prayer . . .

"Even so, come, Lord Jesus" Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Boyer

H. H. Caldwell Given Promotion

Continental Can Announces Awards

The Continental Woodlands Division of Continental Can Company, Inc., with Division Office in Savannah, Ga. has announced its scholarship Program for 1963 of providing forestry research and forestry education in the field of Forest Entomology and Pathology. In announcing these scholarships and fellowships, Theodore W. Earle, Vice President, Continental Can Company, Inc., Woodlands Division said, "Our forests are one of our country's greatest resources, they must be managed and protected. For the past few years we have been granting scholarships to outstanding high school graduates in order for them to enter and study in the field of professional forestry, to insure that this resource is wisely and properly managed. If our forest lands are to continue to contribute to the economic needs of the people of this country then we must strive to find new ways of combating the insect and disease problems that we have in our forests. We feel that by offering these senior assistantships and graduate fellowships that we will encourage qualified graduates to study in the field of Forest Entomology and Pathology."

Buckingham Opens Scholarship Drive

The membership drive for the Buckingham County Scholarship Foundation will be opened on Sunday, March 31.

W. E. Saxon, chairman of the readiness of Buckingham County will be visited by canvassers on that afternoon. Businesses and industries will be solicited later.

Persons contributing one dollar become members of the foundation for the current year. Individuals or firms which contribute the annual subscription of one hundred dollars have the privilege of naming one member of the foundations board of directors.

The chief purpose of the Buckingham Scholarship Foundation is to help and encourage young people from the county to continue their education beyond high school. Funds donated this year may be used to provide scholarships loans of up to $400 for deserving members of the present senior class at Buckingham Central High School. The number of scholarships awarded will be determined by the gifts received.

A committee of leading citizens will select scholarship winners after considering application blanks, records, and recommendations in which the applicant will be referred to by code number rather than name in order to assure selection of winners on the basis of merit and need alone. The foundation hopes to help especially students who could benefit from further education, but probably could not win top scholastic scholarships.

This program is being initiated locally by the Buckingham County Puritan Club. It is patterned after the citizens scholarship Foundation of Falls River, Massachusetts.

The Appomattox Garden Club has donated five new shrubs as foundational planting for the Appomattox County Library. They are as follows: 2 Ilex Rotundifolia, 2 Burford Hollys, 1 Specimen Julianae Berberis.

One dwarf MAGNOLIA STELLATA was purchased by the library with money received from payment of fines. This cost $8.00 — The shrubs contributed by the Garden Club came to a cost of $33.00.

The library and community are both grateful to this club for the interest which they have maintained in beautifying this building. When the Library was dedicated in April 12, 1960, the Garden Club contributed the two Tree Box bushes which are planted on either side of the entrance door.

HIA records won't help cows give more milk, but they help dairymen select heifers for replacement and feed for cows that are milking. In the long run, HIA means more production per cow and more income for the dairymaa.

First Baptist Church Holds Two Services

Regular service was held at First Baptist Church Sunday morning 11:00 a.m. Rev. Artis Appling, pastor, in charge. All present enjoyed it. Mr. Gilbert James, Jr. was pianist. Mrs. Louise Cundi sang beautifully. Rev. C. A. Marshall preached the giftoral service in the afternoon. He is the pastor of the Hat Creek Baptist Church.

The Ladies Aid Society sponsored the program. Mrs. Ella Preston, president. Miss Evelyn Wright, program chairman. Offering was taken up by Deacon Daniel and Deacon Eames, of Chestnut Grove Baptist Church. A few visitors were present.

Mrs. Ernie Brown, of Baltimore, Md., is visiting her sister and brother - in - law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hamlet. Deacon J. A. Hamlet is home after spending several days in Lynchburg General Hospital.

Adventist Church Oppose Blue Law

Members of the Appomattox Seventh - Day Adventist Church have been called on to support opposition to Sunday blue law legislation in states and local communities.

The advice was given in Atlantic City, N.J. on Tuesday, Mar. 12 at the 11th quadrennial convention of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventist by the director of the Religious Liberty Department, Cyril M. Miller. Attending the four - day convention is William E. Carpenter, pastor of the local church.

The local minister, one of more than 700 delegates to the parley heard the church official say that Sunday legislation infringes upon inherent rights of the individual. It smacks of Middle Ages, darkness and can lead to religious persecution and the abolition of liberty. The convention passed a resolution calling local Adventist churches in the Middle Atlantic States to adopt a four -point program opposing the enactment of Sunday laws.

The Adventist denomination Miller continued sees no objection to a non - religious six-day week providing the people are allowed to choose which six days they shall work.

A three-day ministerial institute and Lectureship on preaching starts today. Pastor Carpenter will return to his home on Friday and is expected to give a report of the convention to the local congregation on Saturday morning.

JUST LIKE OLD MAN RIVER
If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.
You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.
The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?
Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate seains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.
